Open-ended message

Sir Michael H. hart

Thanks for the rational choose of “ Mohammad” as the most effective person in the world .Our Prophet really deserves this and more because he established the biggest country in the modern and ancient history , and you, Michael, consider his efficiency stemmed from his emergence in a ruler area while the other 99 persons in your book grew up in an urban area.

You realize Mohammad as the most effective person that his effect on his followers still exists. In addition, you should know that he was illiterate so from where did he bring his knowledge to build such a powerful country which was fulfilled with politics, economy, judgment, sociology, and so on?

This is an evidence of the greatness of the Prophecy which tells that he is really the last prophet that should be followed. Also this is a sign that whatever he did or said was suggested from Allah .The book that Mohammad has received it from Allah, Quran, is a miracle which has a lot of new sciences that have been discovered recently. Furthermore, through Quran and Sunnah Mohammad is still speaking to his generation , he is also giving them solutions for many recent problems that they may encounter after his death , and only through following his advices his followers can return back as the leaders of the world whatever difficulties they face .

This is the greatness of Prophecy and Islam.
